Portrait of Hemingway (Modern Library) Lillian Ross

On May 13, 1950, Lillian Ross's first portrait of Ernest Hemingway was published in The New Yorker. It was an account of two days Hemingway spent in New York in 1949 on his way from Havana to Europe. This candid and affectionate profile was tremendously controversial at the time, to the great surprise of its author. Booklist said, "The piece immediately conveys to the reader the kind of man Hemingway was--hard-hitting, warm, and exuberantly alive." It remains the classic eyewitness account of the legendary writer, and it is reproduced here with the preface Lillian Ross prepared for an edition of Portrait in 1961.

Ernest Hemingway was born on July 21, 1899, and to celebrate the centenary of this event, Ms. Ross has written a second portrait of Hemingway for The New Yorker, detailing the friendship the two struck up after the completion of the first piece. It is included here in an amended form. Together, these two works establish the definitive sketch of one of America's greatest writers.

As a pupil exactly feel bored to help reading. If their teacher inquired them to go to the library or even make summary for some e-book, they are complained. Just very little students that has reading's heart and soul or real their hobby. They just do what the educator want, like asked to go to the library. They go to right now there but nothing reading critically. Any students feel that reading is not important, boring and can't see colorful images on there. Yeah, it is to become complicated. Book is very important for yourself. As we know that on this age, many ways to get whatever we would like. Likewise word says, many ways to reach Chinese's country. Therefore this Portrait of Hemingway (Modern Library) can make you experience more interested to read.
