Heaven and the Afterlife: Is Heaven Real? True Life Stories From Those Who Died And Lived to Tell the Tale (Books About Heaven Book 1) Richard Bullivant

It is only human to wonder what truly happens to us when we die. Do we end our days on earth and there is no more, or do we end our days on earth to begin a new spiritual life in eternity?

This book aims to provide an overview of stories about heaven which are, or have been, very prevalent in the media in recent years.

It has often been noted that people who have had heavenly experiences come back with a greater compassion for others and a determination to live what remains of their earthly lives with greater merit. So many say that since returning from the afterlife their lives have profoundly changed for the better. Additionally, when reading some of the accounts of heaven, it is interesting to observe how many emphasize that human words cannot adequately describe what they saw and heard and felt, such is the beauty and splendour of this invisible realm, like nothing they have ever seen before.

If you haven't already done so, open your mind to the idea that an afterlife exists and that our consciousness can exist independently of the brain. And having taken in the splendour of these heavenly stories, hopefully it will make you feel a little more comforted in the belief that an afterlife is there, just waiting.

Contents Include:

 The Near-Death Experience - "...A surprising number of people have actually undergone a near-death experience but it is only with the advent of the mass media, and in particular the Internet, that experiencers are more willing to come forward and speak of what happened to them."

 I Thought We'd Never Meet Again - "...speaks of immediately seeing a large crowd of people, or celestial welcoming committee as he refers to them, who came rushing towards him, and he instantly knew that these people had all been alive in his own lifetime on earth. He began to make out the faces of some of the people who were there, including his grandfather who looked so strong and well."

 The Life Review - "A lot of people who have returned from a life review say that although every aspect of a life matters, it is often the little things that we do in our lives that are the most important as they often show a spontaneity which reveals the true person behind the action."

* The Return and the Aftermath - "...It is a well-documented fact that after a near-death experience many people chose to change the way in which they lived their lives."
